EAUX-DE-VIE DES CÔTES DU RHÔNE

An integral part of the production cycle of Côte du Rhône and Cru wines, the eaux-de-vie (grape-based spirits) of Côte du Rhône are recognized by two geographical indications. One recognizes the Marc des Côte du Rhône, or Eau-de-vie de marc des Côte du Rhône, which comes from the distillation of grape pomace. The other is the Fine des Côte du Rhône, or Eau-de-vie de vin des Côte du Rhône, produced directly from the distillation of wine.

HISTORY

The « Côte du Rhône » was born in the 15th century within the limits of the former civil diocese of Uzès. In this wine-growing region, pomaces and wines have sometimes been distilled for the production of brandy, traditionally by itinerant distillers traveling from village to village, or going directly to the wineries.

The notoriety of these eaux-de-vie earned them recognition as "Appellation d'Origine réglementée" (regulated designation of origin) on March 19, 1948.

They were registered in the Journal Officiel as a dénomination in 1971, before being recognized and protected as Geographical Indications in 2008.
